

BIBLIOGRAPHY.

1. Professor Winston, Robert, on the videotape Child of Our Times, producer Tessa Livingston, London, BBC 2000.
2. Pinker, Steven, The Language Instinct, New York, William Morrow &Co, 1994, page 26.
 - 2a. Darwin, Charles, quoted in Pinker, page 20.
3. The historical facts cited about General Wesley Clark are drawn from Regan, Geoffrey, Great Military Blunders, London, Macmillan 2000; Colonel David Hackworth is quoted on page 31.
 - 3a. General Clark is quoted in Regan on page 31.
 - 3b. General Jackson is quoted in Regan on page 30.
 - 3c. Colonel Hackworth is quoted in Regan, on page 31.
4. The historical facts cited about General Douglas MacArthur are drawn from the Regan, Geoffrey, Great Military Blunders, London, Macmillan 2000. General MacArthur is quoted in Regan, page 116.
 - 4a. Professor Schaller is quoted in Regan, page 115.

5. The historical facts cited about Reichsmarschal Goering, Hermann, are drawn from David Irving, Göring, A Biography, New York, William Morrow & Co 1989. Field Marshal von Manstein is quoted in Irving, page 373.

- 5a. Reichsmarschal Goering is quoted in Irving, page 370.

6. Professor Zillmer, Eric, is quoted from the videotape of Great Military Blunders, in the episode “Unfit to Lead” of Part 3, Personality, with the sub-heading “It is the moral qualities that get leaders into trouble”. The videotape was produced in London by Jeremy Lovering for Darlowsmithson, 2000.

7. Pease, Allan, Body Language, Sydney, Camel Publishing 1987, page 6.

All the quotations within various chapters come from The Macmillan Dictionary of Quotations, London, Macmillan 1989.